Resolution on Justice for the 'Comfort Women'

2007/2682(RSP) - 13/12/2007

The House held a debate, pursuant to Rule 115 of the Rules of Procedure (debates on cases of breaches of human rights, democracy and the rule of law), on the 'Comfort Women' (sex slaves in Asia before and during World War II).

The debate was followed by a vote on a motion for a resolution.
