EP Rules of Procedure, Rule 116: written declaration, interpretation

2007/2170(REG) - 31/03/2008

The Committee on Constitutional Affairs, which had been consulted on the application of Rule 116, provided the following interpretation on that provision:

'The contents of a written declaration shall not exceed the form of a declaration and, in particular, not contain any decision on matters for the adoption of which specific procedures and competences are laid down in the Rules of Procedure.'