

Technical standards and regulations: procedure for the provision of information. Codification

1996/0300(COD) - 23/02/1998 - Council position

As the proposal concerned an official codification of the rules in force, the common position did not incorporate any changes of substance to the Commission proposal and merely made certain technical corrections without political substance.