Satellite personal communication services in the Union: Community action

1995/0274(COD) - 24/04/1996 - Economic and Social Committee: opinion, report

The Committee welcomes Commission work. Although the European Union is being left behind in certain aspects of this important sector, there are clearly opportunities for European telecommunication operators and industry to participate in the roll-out of SPCS services. However it asks the Commission to clarify: - keys aspects of the Proposal which are considered open to differing interpretations; - how it intends to proceed in those areas where it has a role and especially in the achievement of a coordinated approach by Member States.
