Community system for fishing licences

1993/1038(CNS) - 15/10/1993 - Legislative proposal

This proposal sought to introduce a Community system of fishing licences as provided for in Article 5 of Regulation (EEC) No 3760/92 establishing a Community system for fisheries and aquaculture. It was based on the principle that each Member State administers the fishing activities of vessels flying its flag, with due respect for the relevant Community rules. For prior authorisations to fish, granted under existing individual Community fishing licence schemes, Member States would administer the licences with due respect for a Community procedure which would enable the Commission to ensure compliance with Community rules. Where national fishing licence schemes existed, it was proposed that Member States should notify the Commission of the fact. For fishing activities by Community vessels in third country waters under a fisheries agreement, it was proposed that following authorisation by a third country, the flag Member State should license the vessel concerned to engage in the activities in question. The Commission would, however, continue to administer the fishing licences of vessels flying third country flags and operating in Community fishing grounds.

Community system for fishing licences

1993/1038(CNS) - 17/12/1993 - Text adopted by Parliament, 1st reading/single reading

Parliament tabled amendments seeking to amend the title of the proposal, given that it concerned 'the minimum information' which had to be included in fishing licences. It considered that the fishing licence had to be regarded as an accreditation document suitable for different types of fishing, containing, amongst other information, the infringements of fishing legislation recorded on the rear and, in the case of withdrawal of the licence, if this resulted from an administrative decision or criminal proceedings. The European Parliament also called for that licence to be kept on board the vessel. As regards the information transmitted by the Member States to the Commission, the European Parliament fixed 30 June 1995 as the time-limit for the completion by the flag State of the records on licences granted. Lastly, Parliament considered that the Commission had to carry out appropriate checks if a third country decided to withdraw a licence from a Community vessel and, on the other hand, had to make a response where a Member State addressed a request for information to it.
