(Please see the summary of 19/02/04.)

Olive oil and table olives: common organisation of the market CMO (amend. Regulation (ECC) No 827/68 and repeal. Regulation No 14)

2003/0279(CNS) - 29/04/2004 - Final act

PURPOSE : to present the new organisation of the common market in olive oil and table olives.

LEGISLATIVE ACT : Council Regulation 865/2004/EC on the common organisation of the market in olive oil and table olives and amending Regulation 827/68/EEC. (Corrigendum of the Regulation published in OJ L 161 of 30 April 2004).

CONTENT : the Council has adopted two Regulations aiming to reform the common agricultural policy on cotton, olive oil and table olives, tobacco and hops with a view to enhancing competitiveness, creating a stronger market-orientation, improved environmental respect, stabilising incomes for farmers and having a higher regard for the situation of producers in least favoured areas. (Please refer to CNS/2003/0278).

Two Regulations were adopted, one amending the general support scheme in Regulation 1782/2003/EC ("horizontal legislation") on the implementation of the Single Farm Payment (SFP), and the other amending the Common Market Organisation in the olive oil sector.

To recall, Regulation 136/66/EEC on the establishment of a common organisation of the market in oils and fats covers not only olive oil and table olives but also oilseeds, oil cakes and other vegetable oils. It shall expire on 1 November 2004, this instrument must be repealed and replaced this Council Regulation on the common organisation of the market in olive oil and table olives.

The new Regulation provides that the marketing year for the products concerned shall begin on 1 July and end on 30 June of the following year. However, the 2005/06 marketing year shall begin on 1 November 2005.

More specifically, this Regulation stipulates that :

- the use of the descriptions and definitions of olive oils and olive-pomace oils set out in Annex I shall be compulsory as regards the marketing of the products concerned within each Member State, in intra-Community trade and, as long as compatible with international compulsory rules, trade with third countries;
- the characteristics of the olive oil justify an interest of the consumers in spite of the high price of that oil as compared with other oils and fats. To avoid abuses as regards the quality and authenticity of the products presented to the consumers and the important disturbances on the market they may involve, special measures are needed to develop and protect the quality of olives and olive oils;
- the information given on labels should be guaranteed by up-to-date methods of analysis and other measures to determine the characteristics of each olive oil standard;
- to make provision for appropriate measures to be taken in order to stabilise the internal market;
- the contribution of olive oil and table olive operators to improve and guarantee the quality of the products in question and so to develop the consumers' interests and keep the balance in the market should be encouraged and organised by a Community scheme;
- that Community finance, consisting of the percentage of direct aid that Member States are allowed to withhold in accordance with Regulation 1782/2003, is required to encourage approved operators' organisations to draw up work programmes for the purpose of improving the production quality of olive oil and table olives. Community support should be allocated in accordance with the priorities given to the activities undertaken within the work programmes in question;

- in order to monitor the volume of olive oil trade with third countries while aiming at a simplification of administrative procedures, provision should be made for an import licence scheme with the lodging of a security to ensure that the transactions for which such licences are requested are effected. If market developments made necessary a closer follow-up of exports of olive oil from the Community, the Commission should be authorised to introduce a system of export licences;

- the customs duty system makes it possible to dispense with all other protective measures at the external frontier of the Community. The internal market and duty mechanism could, in exceptional circumstances, prove deficient. In such cases, in order not to leave the Community market without defence against disturbances that might ensue, the Community should be able to take all necessary measures without delay. All such measures should comply with the obligations arising from the WTO agreements;

- the provisions of the Treaty State aid should apply to the products covered by this common market organisation;

- Member States and the Commission shall send each other any information necessary for the application of this Regulation and for complying with the international obligations concerning olive oil and table olives.

ENTRY INTO FORCE : 07/05/2004. It shall apply from the marketing year 2005/2006.

Olive oil and table olives: common organisation of the market CMO (amend. Regulation (ECC) No 827/68 and repeal. Regulation No 14)

2003/0279(CNS) - 18/11/2003 - Legislative proposal

PURPOSE : to reform the common organisation of the market in the olive oil and table olives and to amend Regulation 827/68/EEC. PROPOSED ACT : Council Regulation. CONTENT : the European Commission has presented its proposal aiming to reform the common agricultural policy on cotton, olive oil and table olives, tobacco and hops with a view to enhancing competitiveness, creating a stronger market-orientation, improved environmental respect, stabilising incomes for farmers and having a higher regard for the situation of producers in least favoured areas. (Please refer to CNS/2003 /0278). Regulation 136/66/EEC on the establishment of a common organisation of the market in oils and fats covers not only olive oil and table olives but also oilseeds, oil cakes and other vegetable oils. It shall expire on 1 November 2004, this instrument must be repealed and replaced by a Council Regulation on the common organisation of the market in olive oil and table olives. The new market organisation must comprise: 1) an internal market and trade scheme which allows market forces to operate, while controlling imports under the common market organisation rules and providing for crisis-management instruments: the Commission proposes that, by way of exception, the 2004/05 marketing year should last for a period of eight months ending on 30 June 2005. Subsequent marketing years will begin on 1 July and last for 12 months. The existing aid scheme for private storage must therefore be retained. However, it is important that this mechanism should not distort market-led production. Consequently, aid should continue to be triggered by the Commission on a non-automatic basis and in accordance with the market situation. Community canned foods preserved in olive oil are at present highly rated by consumers, who are coming to appreciate foodstuffs in olive oil to a growing extent. Aid for the use of olive oil - usually of medium quality - in canning has ceased to be justified by the new marketing approaches, which set out to highlight the attributes of olive oil rather than affect selling prices. The Commission proposes that this refund should be abolished. 2) a scheme to enhance quality in the broad sense of the term, based on observance of marketing standards and the work of operators' organisations in the olive sector : the future of the Community olive-growing sector depends to a large extent on the entire industry committing itself to a comprehensive quality-oriented approach. Although little experience has been acquired to date, there appears to be a need to reinforce the existing mechanism in several respects: - establish commitments spread over three years and promote activities with a multinational dimension; - reinforce the contribution of operators in the olive sector towards effective quality monitoring and control of the genuineness of olive oils released for consumption; - step up activities which target quality, publicising this work and the results achieved; - reinforce the arrangements for appraisal and audit by the Member States. The total Community financing for these programmes is to be set by the Member State concerned, but may not exceed 10% of the national envelope, which is greater than the maximum amounts which may be deducted from production aid at present.
