

Basic information
2016/2809(RSP) RSP - Resolutions on topical subjects Resolution on Myanmar, in particular the situation of the Rohingya Subject 6.10.08 Fundamental freedoms, human rights, democracy in general Geographical area Burma Myanmar	Procedure completed

Key events
Date	Event	Reference	Summary
07/07/2016	Decision by Parliament	T8-0316/2016	Summary
07/07/2016	Results of vote in Parliament
07/07/2016	Debate in Parliament
07/07/2016	End of procedure in Parliament

Technical information
Procedure reference	2016/2809(RSP)
Procedure type	RSP - Resolutions on topical subjects
Procedure subtype	Urgent debate or resolution
Legal basis	Rules of Procedure EP 150
Stage reached in procedure	Procedure completed

Documentation gateway
European Parliament
Document type	Committee	Reference	Date	Summary
Motion for a resolution		B8-0910/2016	05/07/2016
Motion for a resolution		B8-0912/2016	06/07/2016
Motion for a resolution		B8-0913/2016	06/07/2016
Motion for a resolution		B8-0914/2016	06/07/2016
Motion for a resolution		B8-0915/2016	06/07/2016
Motion for a resolution		B8-0916/2016	06/07/2016
Motion for a resolution		B8-0917/2016	06/07/2016

Resolution on Myanmar, in particular the situation of the Rohingya

2016/2809(RSP) - 07/07/2016 - Text adopted by Parliament, single reading

The European Parliament adopted a resolution on Myanmar, in particular the situation of the Rohingya.

The text adopted in plenary was adopted by the EPP, S&D, ECR, ALDE, GUE/NGL, Greens/ EFA and EFDD groups.

Parliament recalled that Myanmar has taken significant steps to reform its economy and political system, and whereas wide-ranging reforms have been initiated since 2011. However, the Rohingya are an ethno-religious Muslim minority who have for decades suffered brutal oppression, systematic persecution, segregation and exclusion.

It recalled the Rohingya represent the largest percentage of Muslims in Myanmar, with the majority living in Rakhine State.

Parliament noted that the approximately one million Rohingya are one of the world's most persecuted minorities, and have been officially stateless since the 1982 Burmese Citizenship Law. It also stated that Ms Suu Kyi announced in a meeting with the UN Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Myanmar, Yanghee Lee, that the government will not use the word Rohingya (a continuation of the policy practised under the military dictatorship), as it is considered inflammatory, as is the word 'Bengali', and that it is instead suggesting the new term 'Muslim community in Rakhine State'.

Parliament stated that the Rohingya population (both inside and outside Rakhine State) is the target of violent, aggressive and discriminatory propaganda and actions perpetrated by a number of radical Buddhist groups in Myanmar. In this respect, it urged the government and the relevant authorities of all countries in the region to fully comply with the principle of non-refoulement and to protect Rohingya refugees, in line with their international obligations and with international human rights standards.

Overall, Parliament reiterated its deepest concern about the plight of Rohingya refugees in South-East Asia and called for regional and international mobilisation to provide them with urgent assistance.

Parliament called on the Myanmar Government to:

- to ensure free and unimpeded access to Rakhine State for humanitarian actors, the UN, international human rights organisations, journalists and other international observers;
- to condemn unequivocally all incitement to racial or religious hatred in the future;
- to implement immediately the recommendations set out in the resolution adopted at the 31st session of the UN Human Rights Council (UNHRC) on the situation of human rights in Myanmar;
- to safeguard the Rohingya people from any form of discrimination and to end impunity for violations against the Rohingya;
- to reform the 1982 Citizenship Law and to restore the Rohingya minority's citizenship;
- to immediately start registering all children at birth;
- to repeal all discriminatory provisions.

The EU is called for:

- to continue to support the UNHRC in its efforts to help Rohingya refugees in the South and South-East Asia region;
- to support the UNHRC Global 2014-24 Action Plan to End Statelessness;
- to address the situation of the Rohingya at the highest possible political level in her contacts with Myanmar and with other ASEAN member countries.

Lastly, Parliament called for caution on the conclusion of the planned EU-Myanmar investment agreement, as it could endanger the future socially balanced development of Myanmar as long as legislation on corporate social and environmental responsibilities and liabilities, labour rights, land ownership and anti-corruption measures are still largely absent.