Amending Regulations on agricultural products as regards market rules and sectoral support measures in the wine sector and for aromatised wine products

2025/0071(COD) - 10/02/2026 - Text adopted by Parliament, 1st reading/single reading

The European Parliament adopted by 625 votes to 15, with 11 abstentions, a legislative resolution on the proposal for a regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Regulations (EU) No 1308/2013, (EU) 2021/2115 and (EU) No 251/2014 as regards certain market rules and sectoral support measures in the wine sector and for aromatised wine products.

Parliament adopted its position at first reading by amending the proposal as follows:

More funding for wine producers

Winegrowers will receive additional assistance in the event of serious natural disasters, extreme weather conditions or outbreaks of plant diseases.

The text also provides for the use of European funds for grubbing-up premiums. EU financial aid for definitive grubbing-up must not exceed 70% of the sum of the direct costs associated with carrying out the grubbing-up and the estimated loss of revenue for one year of the grubbed-up area. In addition, Member States may provide for a national contribution to the intervention of up to 30% of the sum of the direct costs associated with carrying out the grubbing-up and the estimated loss of revenue for one year in respect of the grubbed-up area.

The national payment ceiling for wine distillation and green harvesting will be set at 25% of the total funds available per Member State.

To ensure adequate support for winegrowers in relation to the adaptation to climate change, Member States may increase the maximum Union financial assistance to up to 80 % of the actual costs of restructuring and conversion of vineyards if the intervention pursues that objective.

Vine planting authorization system

The vine planting authorisation scheme applies from 1 January 2016, with the Commission conducting reviews in 2028 and every ten years to evaluate the functioning of the scheme and, where appropriate, to present proposals.

With natural disasters, severe meteorological events and plant disease outbreaks becoming more frequent, Member States should be given the possibility to extend by up to twelve months the validity of planting authorisations granted for the region affected and due to expire by the end of the marketing year concerned. Holders of such planting authorisations should have the possibility to renounce their authorisations without incurring administrative penalties where they inform the competent authorities of the Member State that they do not wish to make use of their authorisations within the extended deadline.

When exceptional circumstances lead to unforeseen practical difficulties for winegrowers, preventing them from planting new vineyards, the competent authorities of the Member States should be allowed to waive the administrative penalties for the non-use of a planting authorisation upon a justified request from the winegrower concerned.

Member States may require that abandoned vineyards be grubbed up for sanitary and phytosanitary reasons.

Eligibility and priority criteria

When granting vine planting authorisations, Member States should be able to use objective, non-discriminatory eligibility and priority criteria that result in preference being given to vineyards that contribute to improving products with geographical indications or their quality.

Replanting

In order to avoid aggravating the risk of oversupply in regions where a Member State has opted to limit the granting of new planting authorisations, the Member State should be able to set eligibility conditions for the granting of new planting authorisations to avoid excessive yields in the new vineyards planted in the regions concerned.

Wine tourism

In order to support the development of direct sales to tourists in producing regions, the amended text specifies that wine tourism must be the object of investments in marketing structures and tools.

Export promotion

Measures supporting information, promotion and communication activities may benefit from European funding of up to 60%, while Member States may add up to 30% for small and medium-sized enterprises and 20% for large enterprises.

To adapt to market trends and harness efficient market opportunities, the duration of the support for promotion and communication operations carried out in third countries should be three years, renewable twice for a period of three years at each extension, i.e. a maximum duration of nine consecutive years.

In addition, Member States should facilitate the access of small producers to support that is available under the promotion and communication type of intervention, by providing them with a simplified application procedure or by applying objective and non-discriminatory priority criteria concerning new beneficiaries, new markets and new products.

Clear labels for alcohol free and reduced alcohol wines

The regulation amends the rules on the labelling of wine products to better inform the consumer of the characteristics of grapevine products with a reduced alcohol content, while retaining the obligation to provide information on the use of de-alcoholisation.

To clarify the rules on de-alcoholised wines, the term "alcohol-free" accompanied by the expression "0.0%" will be able to be used if the strength of the product does not exceed 0.05% alcohol-by-volume. Products the strength of which is above 0.5% volume but at the same time are already at least 30% lower than the standard alcoholic strength of the category of wine before de-alcoholisation, should be labelled as "alcohol reduced".

It is specified that compulsory particulars should be required to be displayed on any given packaging only once.

To facilitate exports, wine intended for export should be exempt from the EU's labelling requirements.

Amending Regulations on agricultural products as regards market rules and sectoral support measures in the wine sector and for aromatised wine products

2025/0071(COD) - 10/11/2025 - Committee report tabled for plenary, 1st reading/single reading

The Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development adopted the report by Esther HERRANZ GARCÍA (EPP, ES) on the proposal for a regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Regulations (EU) No 1308/2013, (EU) 2021/2115 and (EU) No 251/2014 as regards certain market rules and sectoral support measures in the wine sector and for aromatised wine products.

The committee responsible recommended that the European Parliament's position adopted at first reading under the ordinary legislative procedure should amend the proposal as follows:

Compulsory particulars

Labelling and presentation of the products marketed in the Union or for export should contain the following compulsory particulars: (i) the designation for the category of the grapevine product; (ii) the term 'reduced alcohol' if the actual alcoholic strength of the product is equal to or above 0.5% by volume and is at least 30% below the minimum alcoholic strength of the category before de-alcoholisation.

The requirement that compulsory particulars be indicated in the same field of vision should only apply once on any given packaging. When providing the nutrition declaration and the list of ingredients, the electronic means used should be identified without words and appear in close proximity of the energy value.

Abandoned Vineyards

To prevent the spread of pests and diseases and to protect public health and safety, Member States should be allowed to require the destruction of vines in abandoned vineyards.

Vine planting authorisation scheme

The scheme of authorisations for vine plantings should apply from 1 January 2016, with reviews to be undertaken by the Commission in 2028 and every ten years to evaluate the operation of the scheme and, if appropriate, make proposals.

In the cases of force majeure and exceptional circumstances, winegrowers may extend the validity of the authorisations granted by up to twelve months after the initial expiration date.

By way of derogation from the standard procedure, the simplified procedure for granting replanting authorisations could apply. The replanting authorisation would be granted automatically by the competent authority following grubbing-up, without the producer needing to make a formal request.

Replanting

Member States may set criteria for the allocation and management of planting authorisations in order to avoid increasing vineyard areas and therefore wine production in regions and for market segments prone to oversupply, and in order to prioritise wines that have market opportunities, in accordance with their national sectorial strategies and the crisis measures authorised for those areas. In areas eligible for the production of wines with protected designations of origin or protected geographical indications, Member States may prohibit the replanting of vines intended for the production of wines without a protected designation of origin or protected geographical indication.

National payments to support wine distillation in times of crisis

Those receiving funds allocated to voluntary crisis measures will not be eligible for aid for green harvesting, distillation or uprooting measures implemented on the same hectares.

Promotional and communication operations

These operations may be extended every five years if deemed necessary for market consolidation. To take into account the specific characteristics of micro, small, and medium-sized enterprises, the Commission may adopt delegated acts establishing a simplified regime for small producers.

When preparing their Strategic Plans, Member States may consider that the term 'third country market' refers to distinct markets within the same third country, enabling allowing for a distinction between different regions, consumer segments or types of distribution channels within the same third country.

Moreover, to address the decline in consumption and the market instability the Union is currently facing, the Commission should encourage the Member States to invest in the development of wine tourism.

Comprehensive strategy

Members proposed that the Commission should establish a comprehensive strategy aimed at revitalising the Union's wine production sector and strengthening its competitiveness. The strategy should, in particular, pursue the objective of expanding the Union's presence in new export markets, with a focus on emerging countries. The strategy should place particular emphasis on the quality, tradition and excellence of Union wines.'

Union financial assistance to the wine sector

The EU financial assistance:

- for restructuring and conversion of vineyards may cover up to 80 % of the actual costs of restructuring and conversion of vineyards linked to the objective of contributing to climate change mitigation and adaptation;
- for green harvesting and distillation should not exceed 50 % of the sum of the direct costs of the destruction or removal of grape bunches and the loss of revenue related to such destruction or removal;
- for permanent grubbing up may cover up to 100% of the eligible costs. Beneficiaries of Union financial assistance for permanent grubbing up should not be eligible to benefit from the intervention restructuring and conversion of vineyards for a period of five years;
- for information actions and promotion should not exceed 80 % of eligible expenditure;
- for actions to prevent the spread of flavescence dorée and other highly contagious plant diseases may cover up to 100 % of the eligible costs.

Budgetary flexibility for sectoral interventions

By way of derogation, unused budgetary allocations for sectoral interventions in the wine sector in a given financial year may be carried over to the following financial year provided that they are used exclusively for the voluntary measures in the same sector.

Amending Regulations on agricultural products as regards market rules and sectoral support measures in the wine sector and for aromatised wine products

2025/0071(COD) - 28/03/2025 - Legislative proposal

PURPOSE: to ensure that the European wine sector remains competitive, resilient and a vital economic force in the decades to come.

PROPOSED ACT: Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council.

ROLE OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT: the European Parliament acts in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure and on an equal footing with the Council.

BACKGROUND: while the EU remains the global leader in wine production, wine consumption in the Union has been steadily declining and is at its lowest level of the past three decades, while traditional export markets for Union wines are impacted by a combination of de-consumption and geopolitical factors, leading to more uncertain export patterns. In addition, production is becoming unpredictable, given the wine sector's vulnerability to climate change. With the resulting oversupply putting pressure on prices, winegrowers have less income to invest in their business and low financial reserves they can fall back on if one of the more frequent and often localised severe weather events hits their region.

The High-Level Group on Wine Policy (HLG) was established to discuss these challenges and identify possible opportunities for the Union wine sector. The HLG considered how to better support the sector in view of the current structural challenges by managing the production potential, enhancing competitiveness and exploring new market opportunities. After four meetings, the Group endorsed a document with policy recommendations.

In view of the positive reaction to the HLG recommendations, the most urgent and sector specific recommendations would be translated into legislative proposals as soon as possible to help the wine sector to face the serious challenges and to become more competitive.

CONTENT: the Commission proposal introduces targeted amendments to Regulations (EU) No 1308/2013, (EU) 2021/2115 and (EU) No 251/2014 to help the European wine sector manage production potential, adapt to changing consumer preferences and open up new market opportunities.

The key changes to the wine policy framework are as follows:

- introduction of a longer validity period for replanting permits to give producers more time to study the possibility of planting varieties better suited to market demand or changing climatic conditions, or the possibility of using new vineyard management techniques;
- possibility for winegrowers who hold valid unused authorisations for new plantings and authorisations resulting from the conversion of planting rights granted to them before 1 January 2025 should be allowed to waive these authorisations without incurring an administrative penalty;
- possibility to limit the issuing of new planting authorisations at regional level for specific areas with excess supply where national or Union measures aimed to reduce the supply (i.e. distillation, green harvesting or grubbing up of vineyards) are or have been implemented in order to avoid further increasing the production potential;
- possibility for Member States to have the flexibility to set regional limits for specific areas as low as 0%, in view to adapting the production potential to the market demand to set rules for replanting in order to better manage the territorial distribution of vineyards and to set conditions relating to the use of varieties and production methods in order to avoid an increase in yields and to preserve traditional vine varieties and production methods;
- increased support to the sector to become more resilient to climate change. Member States can increase the maximum Union financial assistance up to 80% of the eligible investment costs for investments aimed at climate change mitigation and adaptation;
- clear marketing rules and common product denominations for lower alcohol wine products across the single market;
- a more harmonised approach to wine labelling, reducing costs and simplifying trade across EU borders while providing consumers with easy access to information;
- possibility for producer groups managing wine protected under geographical indications to receive assistance to develop wine-related tourism, helping to boost economic development in rural areas;
- extended promotion: the duration of EU-funded promotional campaigns for market consolidation in third countries will be extended from 3 to 5 years to ensure better promotion of European wines.
